ANK ROBBER KILLED BY MEN OF TOWN

Companion Wounded and Captured After Crime at Pe-ell, Wash.

Citizens Warned When Thief
Steps on Burglar Alarm
Button

Centralia, Wash., Feb. 17.—One robber was killed and one was wounded by a posse of citizens of Pe-ell, twenty-five miles southwest of here, early after noon to-day after the two had held up the Pe-ell State Bank and escaped with about $3,000 in money. One bandit was shot in the head by C. Visser, Pe-ell butcher, and the other was shot in the leg. He was stunned and the money recovered.
Entering the bank shortly before noon, the bandits bound C. V. Vande-man, manager of the bank; Lee Duncan, cashier, and Mrs. W. R. Farringer, other employee, and dragged them to the bank vault.

ROBBER GAVE ALARM
In the scuffle one of the bandits unwittingly stepped on the burglar alarm, thereby alerting about 30,000 in currency, the bandits ran out of the bank in an automobile left standing at the entrance with its engine running.
By that time about fifteen citizens were running toward the bank. The robbers abandoned it, jumped on a wood truck driven by Frank Lutes.

The bandits forced Houties to drive
it from Pe-ell.
Pursued by the posse of citizens and others, the bandits left the wood truck about one and a half miles east of Pe-ell, where they took to the woods.
There they were surrounded by the posse and shot.

Officers are endeavoring to learn the identity of the bandits.

New York, Feb. 17.—Disregarding the favorable 1927 earnings reports of the General Motors Corporation and the Inman and Company, stock prices dropped to-day on the New York Stock exchange under an avalanche of selling orders for both accounts. Leading industrial and railroad shares dropped to 6 points, with larger collapses in one of the high-priced specialties.

FOURTEEN SAILORS LOSE LIVES WHEN TANKER BLOWS UP

Twenty-one of Crew Rescued
After Disaster and Landed at Yokohama

Yokohama, Feb. 17.—The captain and thirteen members of the crew of the United States oil tanker Chubu were killed when the vessel exploded.
A trawler arrived here to-day with the twenty-one survivors of the disaster, which occurred Wednesday at San Pedro, California, to Japan.

Several of the survivors who were wounded were injured.
SOUTH OF YOKOHAMA
London, Feb. 17.—A Lloyd's dispatch from Yokohama says the tanker Chubu blew up and sank at a point something more than 150 miles south of Yokohama. Fifteen of the crew were killed and twenty-one were saved by fishermen and landed to-day.

SAILED FROM CALIFORNIA
San Pedro, Feb. 17.—The oil tanker
mi, Japan. At that time the vessel was listed as being operated by the Chile Steamship Company of New York.
It was registered under the ownership of the Sheridan Steamship Company of London.
The Chubu was a vessel of 7,335 gross tons, built in Glasgow in 1922. The number of the crew is not known here.

Famous Aeroplane Is Tuned For New York-San Francisco Flight

In New York, Lieut. Joseph LeBrix (left in inset) and Capt. Dieudonne Costes, French fliers, are preparing their machine for a jump across the United States, from the republic's greatest city to the shore of California. Their monoplane, named Nungesser-Coll, shown above, is the one in which they flew from Paris to Africa and across the South Atlantic to South America. After flying as far south as Buenos Ayres, they journeyed north, reaching the United States. From the Gulf of Mexico they flew to Washington and then to New York. The photographs reproduced above were taken just after their arrival in New York. They are France's most famous aviators of the present time.

BUDGET INDICATES FINANCIAL PROGRESS

"The budget just presented by Finance Minister Robb is one that will no doubt be acceptable to the people of Canada as a whole. It is sane, inasmuch as it will create no disturbance, and the added fact that the reductions in taxation are all of a conservative nature," says C. P. W. Schwenger, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.
"It indicates financial progress and the increasing wealth of the Dominion, and should be an advertisement to the world that Canada is sound to the core,
and has entered a period of steady growth and permanent prosperity."
The policy which he has consistently followed during his regime of fiscal conservatism is now, and is going further to inspire the confidence of outside capital, and should mean much for our future development. The budget is a last budget has added still further to the high esteem and confidence which is generally accorded his administration of the finances of this country by all phases of business life, irrespective of their political affiliations."

HOME OIL BUYS ASSOCIATED HERE

Deal Includes Three Service Stations on Prominent Corners

One of the largest real estate transactions of the year was completed today when the Home Oil Distributors purchased and took over outright the Victoria plant and equipment of the Associated Oil Dealers Limited.
The purchase includes three valuable gasoline service stations which are situated at the northeast corner of Fort and Bannard Streets, at the corner of Pandora and Morrison, and at the corner of Cook and Fairfield.
This morning the signs of the Associated Company came down and those of the Home Oil are being erected.
The Home Oil Company is the first company on the market with a Canadian gasoline, and there is expected to be a keen competition with the other companies now already located here.
It has not been made public what the price was in the transaction, as the matter was handled entirely by the companies' two solicitors, Crease & Crease and Gordon McL. Campbell.

BC. JUDGE IS ACCUSED BY R. H. POOLEY

Member of Bench Charged With Tampering With Report of Judgment

A judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, whom he dubbed
"the Official Kalsomineer" was assailed by R. H. Pooley, Opposition Leader in the Legislature, yesterday for alleged tampering with court records which prevented a litigant from securing the right of appeal.
Referring to the "disgraceful condition" existing in connection with the administration of justice in this Province, Mr. Pooley criticized the unnamed judge for permitting a revised copy of a transcript of his judgment to be issued, as purporting to be a true record of the judgment in the case of Buscombe vs. Buscombe in Vancouver.
READS ACT
In launching his charge during his speech on the Budget, Mr. Pooley read from the Supreme Court Act, setting out the duties of court stenographers to make accurate reports. In the Buscombe case, he explained, the judge had given oral judgment. This was taken down by a sworn stenographer, and the parties to the action were entitled to obtain correct transcripts of the judgment according to the law,
Mr. Pooley affirmed.

ROBBERY IN SEATTLE
Seattle, Feb. 17.—For the first time in Seattle police annals a negro has robbed one of his own. Kim, a 25-year-old negro, was arrested at the point of a gun last night.
According to the statements of the association, the plea is being made on behalf of the postmasters in smaller towns, who receive no salaries, but work on a commission basis.
Throughout Canada there are 11,811 commission post offices in which the postmasters derive their revenue mainly from the sale of stamps. Their duties, nevertheless, are as painstaking as those of postmasters located in government-owned buildings and drawing regular salaries.

Plans Reported Afoot to Erect Movie House at Present Site of Wilson Hotel

Plans are reported afoot for the erection of a palatial new moving picture house on Yates Street. The site of the new theatre is said to be where the old Wilson Hotel at present stands.
This would be an ideal location for a movie house as it is most central.
Plans have not yet reached an advanced stage, but it is reported that providing the building can be purchased the new theatre will be opened up.

The price being offered for the Wilson block is reported to be in the neighborhood of $75,000.

LIFEBOATS GO TO RESCUE CREW OF WRECKED VESSEL

British Freighter Breaks in Two on Sands Off Coast of Holland

Ymuiden, Holland, Feb. 17.—The members of the crew of the British freighter Shanga to-day were believed marooned in the forepart of their vessel, which stranded between here and Wykswaer this morning and broke in two.
The forepart of the vessel was carried in a quarter of a mile from the stern part.

Lifeboats have gone to the assistance of the stricken vessel, but tugs were unable to put out because of a storm.

The Shonga, which was a vessel of 1,911 tons, was en route of Hamburg when it went aground.

PLUNKETT AGAIN ATTACKS ALL U.S. SMALL NAVY MEN

Admiral Who Has Just Retired Says False Security Is Preached

New York, Feb. 17.—"The Pacific movement is not American in origin, it is foreign," Rear-Admiral Charles Plunkett, retired, declared in his first public statement as a private citizen here last night.

"Propaganda is being spread deliberately in this country to give the impression of a false sense of security," he continued, referring to various attacks in the United States on the administration's naval programme.

WAR SPEECH
The former navy officer, who drew official wrath upon his head for a statement that, due to trade rivalry, the United States was nearer war today than at any other time in its history, said:

"Eliminate the right of blockade, establish the right of merchant vessels to come and go in peace and war, and you will destroy the usefulness of amarines, of cruisers, of navies generally. But the trouble is there is one nation in the world that will never agree to the freedom of the seas, and you know what nation I mean as well as I do."

MENTIONS GREAT BRITAIN
"Do you mean Great Britain?" he was asked.

"With an affirmative nod the admiral continued:
"Germany went to the peace conference determined to ask for the freedom of the seas. The German delegation fell under federal fire yesterday during a series of clashes in the State of Jalisco. Different groups of insurgents who had suddenly become active in the region where the religious rebellion has been going on for several months, it was stated, were defeating."

Bridge Damage Said Is Dismissed

Vancouver, Feb. 17.—No evidence having been adduced in support of a claim by the Attorney-General of British Columbia for damage to a bridge crossing the North Arm of Fraser River and connecting Sea Island and the mainland on April 9, 1926, Mr.
Justice Martin, in the Admiralty Court here, dismissed the action against the tug Brunette.
Trial of the Attorney-General's claim against the tug Pacific Foam for damage December 10, 1925, to the bridge was adjourned for the purpose of enabling the plaintiff to present further evidence next March.

TURNOVER TAX UNASSAILABLE SAYS PREMIER

Pooley's Statement That Levy
Has Been Ruled Out Not Taken Seriously

Warnings by R. H. Pooley, Opposition Leader in the Legislature, that the British Columbia Turnover Tax is ultra vires under a recent decision of the Canadian Supreme Court are not taken seriously by the Provincial Government.
"There is no question about the legality of the tax," Premier Maclean said when questioned on the matter.
"We are not worrying about any possibility of it being quashed."

Attorney-General Manson intimated that he would reply to Mr. Pooley's statement on the turnover tax in the House when he spoke on the Budget.
"The Turnover Tax is absolutely sound," Mr. Manson said. "Before it was imposed the Government considered the most eminent counsel on the matter. It is true, of course, that we need a new definition of federal and provincial taxation fields, as we urged at the Interprovincial Conference last year. A clearer definition is required to determine where federal taxation powers end and the powers of the Province begin, but there is no question about the legality of the Turnover Tax."

OTTAWA DEATH
Ottawa, Feb. 17.—Sylvia Clapin, seventy-four years old, a former translator in the House of Commons, died here early to-day following a brief illness. Mr. Clapin retired from active duty some time ago.

He was known throughout Canada
as an authority on books.

MEMBERS RALLY TO SUPPORT SOLDIER-SAILOR FRANCHISE

Sharp Replies From Legislative Committee Greet Esquimaux Delegation Seeking to Take Vote Away
From Service Men

Members of the Legislature with many affiliations yesterday rallied to the support of the soldiers and sailors in barracks at Esquimaux, when a delegation representing the Esquimaux Voters' League appeared before the Municipal Committee and urged withdrawal of the municipal franchise from persons residing upon property owned or occupied by the Crown.
Capt. P. Matheson headed the delegation, which protested that military and naval men had no interest in the municipal affairs of Esquimaux, yet controlled municipal elections, to the advantage of candidates securing their support.

WIDE OPEN TOWN
Capt. Matheson said the military and naval vote was irresponsible and declared "When you have a body of people without a stake in the community, that is the body who are subject to influence by liquor interests and other groups." He believed that the candidate for municipal office who would allow "wide open" conditions would be active in getting an irresponsible vote of such proportions to the polls.

While both sides at elections had the opportunity to present arguments, Capt. Matheson believed no reasoning would appeal to "irresponsible persons without a stake in the community."
Capt. C. W. Peck protested, "If Esquimaux were attacked, would you mind these people going out to fight for you? You are assuming that soldiers are men with a low state of morals. Are they any more irresponsible than you?"

"AN OLD STORY"
A. Wells-Gray asked what evidence the committee had to prove assertions that the soldiers' and sailors' vote would be used in any evilly manner, and N. A. Wallinger denounced the proposed disenfranchisement. Col. Peck remarked, "It is the old story; a man may be good enough to fight for his country, but is not good enough to vote for it."

Capt. Matheson retorted that it was no question of sympathy for soldiers and sailors, or discrimination. "If there is any excuse for a state of affairs where you can put 300 names on the voters' list and swamp the residents' vote, then disregard this petition," he said. He asserted that law and order would be better maintained if under the control of responsible residents rather than at the dictate of a vote that could be manipulated by corrupt influence.

REVEALS MISTAKE
Capt. J. A. McKenzie, not being a member of the Municipal Committee, intervened to denounce the suggested changes in the Municipal Act and the supporting arguments of the delegation. "This is the most outrageous proposal I ever heard. The ultimate sanction behind the ballot is the willingness of the person voting to defend his country."

Reeve Erick of Esquimaux, opposed the proposal, remarking that if he took the same stand as Capt. Matheson, he would desire to cross from the voters' list the names of all who opposed him.

Other speakers in favor of disenfranchisement were Councillors Pom-ero and Hicks, with Capt. Cox. The Municipal Committee was informed that in 1926 only one member of the forces was a voter, while the 1928 list carried 118 military and naval names.

Pension Act Is To Be Amended

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—Amendments to the Pension Act to meet "some of the present day conditions," and clarify certain sections will be introduced in the House to-day.

In making this announcement before the special committee on pensions and returned soldiers' problems, Hon.
J. H. King, Minister of Health and Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, stated today that the necessary resolution would be placed on the order paper on Monday or Tuesday. First reading of the bill, said Mr. King, would be moved in the House immediately on completion of the budget debate. An outline of the full nature of the measure, now in preparation, would be given to the committee at its next meeting on Wednesday.

RADIO SIGNALS GUIDE PLANES THROUGH FOGS

Chicago, Feb. 17.—One more obstacle to safe navigation of the air—fog—is about to be overcome through experiments, says Colonel Paul Henderson.
"Since radio engineers have found radio waves can be directed through ether," Colonel Henderson said to-day,
"experts have evolved a system of guiding pilots through fog and storms by means of radio signals."
In a recent experiment one severely foggy day, a biplane was guided from a New York field to one in Western Pennsylvania.

TAXATION CUTS
ROBB ANNOUNCED
NOW IN FORCE

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—The reductions in taxation announced in the House yesterday afternoon by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, became effective to-day.

The reduction in income tax rates will be applicable to taxes payable on the income for last year.

Explanation is made by the Department of National Revenue respecting the working of the ten per cent tax reduction announced in the budget. The reduction is only on individual income.

Each individual, it is announced, in completing his income tax return, must figure his total tax payable by him on his income, after allowing for deductions and exemptions. From this tax the individual will deduct one-fifth—representing the ten per cent reduction—leaving the income tax he will actually pay.

MURDERED
BOXER'S FATHER
IS MURDERED

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 17.—Thomas Kiecal, seventy-four, father of Stanley Kiecal, whose sensational career in the prize ring was cut short by an assassin, has met a similar fate.

The body of Kiecal, with the throat cut, was found in a barn loft at the family home yesterday, and John Kiecal, a son, in whose possession a blood-stained knife was found, was held.

B.C. JUDGE IS ACCUSED
BY R. H. POOLEY

REPORT ALTERED

One of the litigants, he went on, desired to enter an appeal, but when he tried to secure a report by the judgment, he found that instead of the correct transcript which he had a right to expect, he had been given an edition which had been altered. The report given to him was no use for purposes of appeal and so the litigant lost his right of appeal, he said.

The opposition lawyer demanded by what right justice had been tampered in this way and why the stenographer was prevented from doing his sworn duty.

Attorney-General Manson explained that he had had nothing to do with the matter, and that the judge conducting the case had full charge of the proceedings.

STENOGRAPHER REPLIES

Mr. Pooley added that when the litigant asked for a true copy of the judge's ruling the official stenographer replied that the transcript already supplied was the only form in which it could be released. The stenographer's letter making this explanation was read by Mr. Pooley.

As a result of this "rehearsed judgment" the litigant lost his right to appeal to a higher court, Mr. Pooley added.

"Who was the judge?" demanded W. A. McKenzie, Conservative of Smithsmead.

"He was the 'Official Kalsomine,'" Mr. Pooley replied.

While the Attorney-General might claim that he had no jurisdiction over judges, Mr. Pooley concluded, still he was the head of the justice department, and it was to him that the Legislature and the public must look for adjustment of their grievances and complaints against the manner in which justice was administered.

SOVIET DEBATE AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—When A. A. Hespa, Labor, Winnipeg North, gave notice in the House of Commons last night of a motion calling for copies of all communications and documents pertaining to the breaking off of relations between Canada and Russia, Premier King stated there would be no objection to tabling the documents, but that those communications which had been exchanged between the governments of Canada and Great Britain could be tabled only by mutual consent.

ASPIRIN

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in an Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Aspirin;
it does NOT affect the heart

Parliament Asked to Reduce Import Tariff on Fishing
Boat Engines

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—That crude petroleum, not in its natural state, imported for refining purposes, would be allowed to enter Canada made free under all tariffs until July 1, 1931, was an announcement made by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, in the course of his budget speech in the House yesterday afternoon.

Dealing with other tariff changes, Mr. Robb said:

"A drawback of ninety-nine per cent is to be granted on bituminous coal used in melting or evaporating salt produced in Canada."

"The tariff rate on engines for fishing boats is now fifteen per cent under the general tariff. It is proposed parts thereof shall enter at the same rate. This is a reduction of 12 1/2 per cent."

FLIN FLON DEVELOPMENT

Toronto, Feb. 17.—The deposit of a cheque for $3,000,000 with a local trust company is the fulfilment of an agreement by the Harry Payne Whitney mining interests to offer surety that their part of the Flin Flon mining development project is being lived up to. The Canadian National Railways are now proceeding with construction of an eight-two-mile railway from the Pas to the mine property in north-western Manitoba. Construction of this line had been promised if early development of the mine was undertaken on a large scale. This is covered by the guarantee now deposited, in which the names of British Overseas of Toronto and the Mining Corporation are linked.

A FINE BUDGET

NOTHING PLEASES A MINISTER OF Finance more than to be able to tell people that their taxes will be reduced. This is the happy position in which Hon. James A. Robb has been in presenting his last three budgets at Ottawa. He kept up his reputation for doing things well when he produced his annual statement yesterday, and the country will give it a hearty welcome.

There are a number of satisfactory features in the budget which are entitled to special study. These are a ten per cent. reduction in the personal income tax, an eight per cent. reduction in the business income tax, a twenty-five per cent. reduction in the sales tax, and certain reductions in the import duties on a wide range of articles—relief in the aggregate amounting to nearly $19,000,000. In addition to these cuts the Minister of Finance was able to report that the year's trading would show a surplus of some $55,000,000 which, after the writing down of the valuation of soldier settlement lands, would leave a net balance on the right side of the ledger amounting to $38,000,000. Of special importance, moreover, was his announcement that in the last five years no less than $144,700,000 had been paid off the national debt.

If only the items to which we have referred are considered, we have reflected in them a condition of affairs which advertises to all the world that Canada is enjoying abounding prosperity that shows every prospect of continuing. The reduction Mr. Robb has been able to make in the income tax is in line with the policy he announced when he made his drastic revision in 1925, which he since has followed up with yearly ten per cent. cuts. It means, for instance, that the married person with no dependents who is earning an income of $4,000 will pay a charge of sixteen dollars on his 1927 salary as against eighty dollars in 1924. In that year, of course, an income of $3,000 was taxed to the tune of forty dollars, the exemption being only $2,000 and the balance liable to a four per cent. charge. In 1925 the exemption was increased to $3,000 and the advantage very naturally went to a large number of Canadian wage earners.

It can be assumed that the commercial world will fully appreciate the reduction of the tax on business incomes of eight per cent. and the twenty-five per cent. reduction in the sales tax. An announcement that the Minister had found that he could do without the revenue from these sources would have been hailed with pleasure; but it must be remembered that these, as well as the income tax, are reminders of what the national treasury has to meet every year as a result of our share in the Great War. At our present rate of progress, however, the day should not be far distant when it will be feasible to extend still further relief under these heads.

It must have been gratifying to Mr. Robb to be able to announce an estimated surplus on the year's trading amounting to $55,000,000, which, as already mentioned, however, is reduced to the net figure of $38,000,000 by reason of the writing down of the valuation of soldier settlement lands. What the actual figure will be will not be known, of course, until the end of next month—the completion of the fiscal year under review. At any rate it will be in excess of the surplus for which the Minister budgeted last session. Here again is additional evidence of prosperous conditions in contrast with the somewhat doleful picture of Canadian affairs which some of our Conservative friends continue to paint for purely political purposes.

The Minister of Finance told the House yesterday that he would welcome any workable plan that would insure the retirement of the national debt; but he expressed the opinion, and in this he is on sound ground, that until Canada was nearer the pre-war rate of taxation, the annual reduction of taxes was as important as the reduction of the public debt. However, "our policy," he emphasized, "is to reduce both." His statement clearly indicates how religiously he has followed out this policy. Already the income tax alone is only a shadow of what it was five years ago, while in the same period Mr. Robb has been able to reduce the debt by very nearly $145,000,000.

It is not simple for the ordinary mortal to grasp financial matters in terms of billions of dollars; but Mr. Robb's task will be better appreciated when it is realized that the national debt of Canada before the war was approximately $330,000,000, or approximately one-seventh of what it is at present. In other words, the amount of interest which he has to find each year to meet the fixed charges on that part of the debt attributable to the Great War is alone approximately half the amount of the whole debt of 1914. Put in another way. Out of every one hundred dollars the Dominion treasury pays out, more than forty-five dollars go to meet some form of war bill.

In all the circumstances, therefore, and especially in view of the fact that taxation has been cut and the debt reduced, and that Mr. Robb expects a surplus at the end of the year, the budget he presented to the House of Commons yesterday is another tribute to the ability and judgment of the Minister and the policy of the Government of which he is a member.

AN AMAZING REQUEST

MEMBERS OF THE MUNICIPAL COM- mittee of the Legislature were amazed at some of the extraordinary arguments the members of the Esquimalt Municipal Voters' Association advanced in support of their plea for the disfranchisement of the soldiers and sailors resident in that community. There is no justification for such a course.

One of the arguments advanced was that they should not be considered householders, that they have no stake in the community, whatever that may mean, because they are residing in dwellings held or occupied by or on behalf of the Crown? But military regulations require them to live on Crown property. Are they to be penalized on that account? As Colonel Peck very properly pointed out, there would be no objection from the Voters' Association if these men were called upon at some time to defend Esquimalt homes.

These men have a very real stake in the country and to deprive them of their municipal franchise for such silly reasons as advanced by the delegation yesterday would be an act of gross injustice. We trust such an amendment to the Municipal Act will not be accepted by the committee. Should it, however, the Legislature should give it short shrift. The men designed against are good citizens and entitled to their voting rights.

DREDGING THE ST. LAWRENCE

IF THERE IS ONE PROJECT IN WHICH Canada is vitally interested that ought to be discussed without partisan heat it is the proposal to deepen the St. Lawrence and make it possible for big deep-sea ships to reach the head of the Great Lakes. But certain powerful interests in Montreal are opposing the scheme on the most selfish grounds. Our morning contemporary says that the interest which the United States is manifesting in the undertaking is not a desire for better canal facilities, but an attempt to grab as much of the waterpowers of the stream as possible. It also charges Mr. MacKenzie King with an attempt to thrust internationalization on the people of this Dominion.

This is the customary Tory attitude when there is a possibility of the general public getting a share of the advantages which the big interests consider to be theirs by something approaching divine right. The morning paper has taken The Montreal Star as its mentor. It has heard the pleaders for special privilege crack the whip and it, with other Conservative journals, has wasted no time in jumping through the hoop. It matters not that if large deep-sea vessels could collect Canadian grain at the head of the Great Lakes, the annual saving in the marketing of it soon would reach as much as $20,000,000, that the power which would be made available to this country would effect a saving, as against the cost of steam-generated power, of from $30,000,000 to $60,000,000 annually. Not a bit; such benefits as the general public would derive through these savings—and through the additional impetus to development in the Great Lakes area that would be furnished—would be at the expense of the few wealthy commercial barons who insisted upon the country spending nearly $50,000,000 in order that deep-sea ships could reach Montreal—but no farther. Then, again, if our lumber and fish, for instance, and other commodities that we sell in the markets of middle Canada could go all the way by water to the head of the Great Lakes, our exporters could effect a considerable saving and, quite naturally, expand their business.

Everybody knows that the scheme can not be carried out except by agreement between the two countries. Much of the river which would have to be deepened is international water. Canada already has spent $100,000,000 on her Great Lakes canal system. All this Dominion is asked to spend is another $36,000,000 so that the fullest possible benefit might accrue to the people for their previous expenditures. Only Montreal interests, for obviously selfish reasons, oppose the project; the rest of the country wants it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

IMMIGRATION
From The Boston Leader

There is practical unanimity among thinking people in the Dominion to-day as to the urgent necessity of a larger population, and in the co-operation now going on to achieve this end there is apparent little if any racial prejudice. . . . What is properly desired is that a policy of preferential British immigration shall be rigidly maintained, shutting the door only to foreign-born immigrants who, either incapable of adopting Canadian ideals or unwilling to do so, cannot be assimilated.

WHY?
From The Halifax Herald

The first Canadian flying field to receive a name is located at Ottawa. It has been named "Lindbergh." . . . No one in this Dominion desires to detract one iota from the splendid exploit of this fine young aviator; he has had a world of praise in this country. But surely this is carrying "hero-worship" just a little too far. Why not the name of one of the British aviators, Ball, Robinson, Alcock, Brown—or coming nearer home, the name of a Canadian like Bishop or Barker? We Canadians do curious things at times, and this is one of them.

JOTS FROM GEOGRAPHY

ROMAN BRIDGE AND ACQUEDUCT, at Nîmes, France, is one of the most elaborate and beautiful spans built by the Roman engineers. The aqueduct was built in the year 20 A. D. to supply the colony of Nemausus with water from two excellent springs twenty-five miles distant. It is nearly 900 feet long and 160 feet high, and carried the water over the River Gard. The channel for the water is at the very top, the smooth stone walk being on the level below.

HELP TO HOSPITALS

To the Editor:—You will find enclosed a cutting from The News of the World helping hospitals' co-operative scheme that will speak for itself. In the year 1927 my brother and myself went to work for the Great Western Railway locomotive department, Wolverhampton. The secretary wrote my mother requesting to be allowed to deduct so much from our pay, father being dead.

A weekly voluntary amount of two pence (my wages were only ten shillings per week). The higher the wages a little more was given. Some years later my sister was taken sick. The Royal Hospital, Wolverhampton, gave my sister free outdoor medical attention, on account of her brothers being subscribers. So one good turn got another.

other. It is an old saying and a true one. "What you sow you also reap." Now, sir, why should not we Victorians start and help our hospitals here by a co-operative scheme of some other way, that there would be no deficit in our hospitals? I am sure a good many could spare from ten cents to twenty-five cents per week. Note the money spent on picture shows, dancing and other places of amusement—nothing put aside for sickness. I would suggest that the civil service and others who have steady employment, to take it up. The let everybody fail in line and help. On your subscription slips you could decide where your patronage was to go—to which hospital, so no frictions of money and to help others in doing so, is better. And that is what every working man does who pays his weekly threepence to the Hospital Saving Association. The association was formed in 1923 under the sponsorship of the King Edward VII. Hospital Fund, with the object of providing hospital treatment as a right for subscribers and their dependents and of supplying an assured income for the hospitals from the classes of people who enjoyed the benefits which these institutions confer. Most of the hospitals in London at once co-operated to organize the scheme, and within twelve months over 750 local groups had been formed. The number of contributors was 63,000, and $400,000 had been paid over to hospitals in return for treatment given during the year. Splendid progress has since been made, and at present there are over 4,000 local groups, with a total membership of 352,000. During the past year's working $128,000 was paid to hospitals. When a member or one of his dependents requires hospital treatment he applies to his local group secretary, who gives him a voucher. On presentation of this voucher to a co-operating hospital the holder is entitled to free treatment. If, as usually happens, the demands for beds exceeds the supply, a member of the association is given preference over non-members. Should the member apply to a non-co-operating hospital the amount charged for treatment is refunded upon production of the receipt. The benefits from the association extend even further, however, for help is also given towards expenses incurred for surgical appliances and convalescent homes.—News of the World, December 4, 1927.

HELPING HOSPITALS London Workers Support Co-Operative Scheme

To obtain something for nothing may be good for one's pocket, but it is often bad for one's self-respect. To receive a valuable benefit at a price well within one's means, and to help others in doing so, is better. And that is what every working man does who pays his weekly threepence to the Hospital Saving Association. The association was formed in 1923 under the sponsorship of the King Edward VII. ALDERMEN'S SALARIES

To the Editor:—The opponents to the salary increase for aldermen very carefully enumerate all the faults of past and present City Councils, but they fail to list any one of the virtues. Mr. John Dean goes back a considerable period to find defects in our present body of aldermen. He refers to single tax, that ancient history. Also is the "joint cost for public works" item, in which I presume Mr. Dean refers to the Victoria-Spanish sewer controversy—all old stuff. The present or even near-present councils had no hand in those affairs. It is distinctly a hackneyed method of refusing a just demand by bringing up unqualified accusations.

Mr. Bickle, writing in Wednesday's Times, claims that I insult all who have ever served on the City Council by comparing the street sweeper's wage with the alderman's salary. If offence is taken that, of course, is to be regretted, but the indisputable fact remains, which fact gives the street sweeper a shade the best of it.

During the past three years, that is since the majority of the present City Council have been in office, Victoria has developed more pronounced symptoms of prosperity than for many years before. New industries have actually blossomed into concrete action, with the result that many have talked of improvements have gone ahead rapidly. More building permits have been issued, while arrears and current taxes have been paid up in a much more satisfactory way than for a long time past.

I honestly believe in "giving the devil his due," as the saying goes, and though I do not now, and did not then, agree with all that was sanctioned when I was alderman, yet I must say that the City Councils of 1925-26 and 27 have shown, by far, more get-up and vigor, more genuine accomplishment than any of their predecessors, so far as my memory reaches.

However, all this has little bearing on the salary question. If the present Council are not efficient, that does not lessen the fact that the position of alderman calls for remuneration, at least, superior to a street sweeper's. By elevating the wage scale a higher and more capable class of men will likely seek office. The aldermen of today were undoubtedly the best material that presented themselves at the last election.

The Victoria Daily Times, February 17, 1903

The Victoria Terminal Railway Company have purchased a barge, which has been brought over here to be fitted up for the purposes to which the company intend to devote her. The barge was acquired by Vice-president A. E. Wood who returned from the Sound yesterday.

Again, for another week, the proposed by-laws providing for the selection of a site for the Carnegie Library, the regulation of keeping cows within the city and the sawing of wood on the city streets have been laid in abeyance by the City Council.

Word has been received from the Strathcona Hotel, Shawinigan Lake, that there is splendid skating on the lake in the vicinity of the hotel.

Again the announcement comes from the North of another rate war, this time between the Merchants' Transportation Company of Dawson and the White Pass Railway Company. Passengers arriving from the North on the Sound say they were able to travel from Dawson to White Horse $20 cheaper than they could have done had they started two weeks earlier.

A most interesting inter-town ping pong tournament took place on Saturday night at Duncan, when, after an exciting battle, the Victoria team wrested the victory from their opponents. The Victoria representatives were Messrs. Wilson, Garesche, Leeming and Rickaby, and their opponents were composed of Messrs. Freeman, Shaw, Smith and Whitcombe.

The Florence Roberts Company opened their brief engagement at the Victoria Theatre last evening in Belasco's "Zaza," the drama in which this popular organization scored a telling hit here last year.

It was announced that arrangements were complete to distribute balloons and free tickets from an aeroplane on the afternoons of February 25 and 27. The time of the flight will be arranged so that school children will be able to take part in the fun of securing the balloons. Circulars are to be dropped to which will be attached free tickets to the Mardi Gras. Over fifty free tickets are to be "given the air."

Arrangements are being made by Jimmie Williams to stage a water polo match for local schools on Wednesday afternoon, February 29. Swimming races, fancy diving and competitions between the various public schools are being arranged.

LIBERAL POLICIES HELP WOMEN

Speaker Outlines Legislation at Ward Two Meeting

Ward Two, Victoria, Liberals, were addressed at a regular meeting last night by Mrs. M. E. Campbell, past president of the Esquimalt and Island Associations. Mrs. Campbell proved herself to be particularly acquainted with all measures pertaining to the welfare of women and children in the Province of British Columbia. The speaker clearly outlined the value of the social legislation specially affecting women from the adoption of the Woman Suffrage Act, to the act providing a minimum wage for females. In the course of her remarks she outlined the situation with regard to the Deserter Wives Maintenance Act of 1919, and stressed upon the value of such legislation as mother's pensions, Equal Guardianship of Infants Act, The Factory Amendment Act, Night Employment of Young Persons Act, Adoption Act, Juvenile Courts Act, and other pieces of legislation which have been enacted by the Government of the day for the betterment of conditions among the women and children of the Province.

In commenting upon the question of state health insurance, the speaker contended that the time was coming when this legislation will be adopted. She pointed out that such insurance would be the means of saving many lives, by reason of the fact that many

STOMACH TROUBLE CAUSED AGONY

Mr. Henry Senechal, Desjardins Street, Montreal, knows what it is to be tormented with Stomach Trouble. "For the past year," he writes, "I have suffered agonies. Indigestion made me deadly sick, and the pains were hard to bear. I had dizzy spells and racing headaches; sleep was broken; and I was tired all the time. I have lost many a day's work on account of my condition, and I could have saved all this suffering and loss of time had I taken Tanlac in the beginning. For after my month's course of Tanlac, I am now in the best of health, anything—sleep well—do a big day's work and have gained nine pounds in the past two months. I gladly recommend Tanlac to anyone who is bothered with Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, Gas, Pain after eating, get Tanlac to-day. Let it help you as it has helped Mr. Senechal. Why not let Tanlac do for you what it did for this sufferer and for thousands of others? It is marvelous to see how it cures the most obstinate digestive troubles, relieves gas, pains in the stomach and bowels. How it restores appetite, vigor and sound sleep. Tanlac is made of roots, herbs and herbs—nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist to-day. Your money back if it doesn't help you."

LEGISLATION OR MILK PRICE WAR

Independents Must Share
Cost of Marketing Surplus

Possibility of a milk price war of unprecedented severity in Vancouver, unless the loss in marketing surplus milk is shared by all milk producers, was straightly laid before the Agriculture committee of the Legislature yesterday morning, when Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, President W. J. Park, of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, and others explained the growing need of legislation aid to attain equality in returns between organized and independent milk producers.

City Solicitor J. B. Williams of Vancouver aroused protests when he declared that 95 per cent of the people of Vancouver are opposed to the bill sought by the dairymen.

Colwood

Colwood, Feb. 17.—A well attended meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute was held in the Institute rooms Tuesday afternoon. Six visitors were welcome.

The secretary read a letter from the secretary of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service, asking support of this institute in establishing a Better Baby Clinic, Colwood being chosen by the executive as the centre. After discussion it was decided to give full support to this movement.

The meeting decided to award eight prizes, one to each grade in Colwood School, definite details to be announced later.

A committee was formed to report on the cost of outfitting Institute rooms, Mrs. John Goodall being appointed convener.

Miss Kelly, president, before calling on Miss Jean Murray to read a paper on the founding of the first women's institute by the late Mrs. J. W. Hoodless, explained as little was known of the origin of the now world-wide movement, and called attention to the fact this was the first "Hoodless" Day on Vancouver Island.

Miss Murray explained, Stoney Creek, Ontario, was noted for being the birthplace of the Women's Institute movement, the first Women's Institute being organized in Stoney Creek February 19, 1887, by Mrs. J. comes from the right kind of breakfast

SEVENTY per cent of the day's school work is done in the forenoon. Every child should have a breakfast that provides energy, builds tissue and bone, and promotes health and resistance to illness.

Rugged, sturdy childhood—happy, carefree days—will surely follow.

Quick Quaker is the best breakfast for children, because perfectly balanced with the elements of nutrition. It contains 16% protein for tissue building and tissue repair; 65% carbohydrates to supply energy; mineral salts for growing sound bone and strong teeth; plenty of bulk to aid digestion; and the necessary vitamins to assist assimilation.

No other cereal has the nutlike flavour of Quick Quaker. It "grows on" children's appetites. Eagerly they look forward to it. They go to school or play plentifully nourished.

Be sure to ask your grocer for Quick Quaker. You will know it by the picture of the Quaker. Packages contain coupons with which you can secure silverware and other household and personal articles you need. Fastest cooking cereal—cooks in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes according to your taste. U.B.C. WORK INVALUABLE, HOUSE TOLD

All Countries Using University Graduates But They Will Return, Says Wrinch

In almost every country in the world to-day are graduates and ex-students of the University of British Columbia, who will return sooner or later to the Province, bringing with them a richer knowledge of foreign peoples, a better understanding of international problems and a fuller appreciation of the relations of the different branches of the Imperial family, declared Dr. R. C. Wrinch, Liberal of Skeena, in the Legislature on Thursday as his contribution to the debate on the Budget.

Dr. Wrinch dealt particularly with the study of the university, and the record of British Columbia graduates in so large numbers as was popularly believed. Of 747 graduates over a period of eight years, only fifty-seven had taken up their residence in the United States, British Columbia and the rest of Canada claimed the vast majority of them. The Rhodes scholars have returned to Canada to pursue their life's work with other students in mechanical engineering, geology, industrial chemistry, forestry, fisheries, hospitals, public health, agriculture and mining, Britannia, Trail, Kimberley, and the Premier Mine claimed many of them in the higher professional occupations, he stated.

Research in poultry is capable of saving to the Province $700,000 a year in egg production alone, and, when carried beyond egg production to fertility, hatchability and mortality, would mean an approximate saving of $1,000,000, said Dr. Wrinch, in reviewing the success that research over a period of years had met with in the University. The results were regarded as highly gratifying, as the first outstanding fruits of co-operative effort between pure science and agriculture. Dr. Wrinch quoted United States authorities as writing to the University of British Columbia, to commend it on the extraordinary record of its department of geology. One writer said: "The numbers of its graduates who have taken graduate work in geology subsequently at other universities is a never-ending marvel to me. My admiration extends not only to the quantity but to the quality."

The general superintendent of the Britannia mine had remarked that the success in solving the flotation problem of the Britannia ores could be attributed to the microscopic study of them made by Dr. Schorl of the University as a result of which the company had been able to double the copper content of the concentrate, said Dr. Wrinch.

OAK BAY SCHOOL ESTIMATES UP

Increase of $5,000 in Ordinary Expenditures For This Year Estimated

Estimates of ordinary expenditure for 1928 for Oak Bay schools are approximately $5,000 more than those of last year, according to figures submitted by the school board to the Oak Bay Council last night. The total of the ordinary expenses are estimated at $61,790.10. Estimates for extraordinary expenditures will not be submitted until a later date, following a request from the school board that they be allowed further time to make up these figures.

After short consideration, the ordinary expense estimates were referred to the estimates committee of the council for incorporation in the total estimates for the year.

An increase of about $7,000 is shown in the salaries for this year in the school estimates, this being the main item of increase. The estimates are tabulated as follows:

Salaries, $57,842; supplies, $2,300; janitors, $4,320; repairs, $1,745; fuel, light and water, $2,400; grounds, $525; furniture, $375; sundry expenses, $750; auditor's fee, $75; medical officer, $300; school nurse, $750; secretary's salary, $800; insurance, $925; office expenses, $350; election expenses, $25; contingent fund, $1,500; debenture interest, $4,137; sinking fund, $2,771.10. Total, $61,790.10.

ALPINISTS PLAN BIG EXPEDITION

Two Parties Go Into Sooke For Climb February 25

An outing to Sooke Harbor district in the first expedition on the programme of the Alpine Club of Victoria in 1928, and is set for February 25. Two parties, one under the direction of C. L. Harrison, which will leave Victoria after assembling at Bastion Square at 8.45 a.m., and another, under George Winkler, to start from the same place at 1.30 p.m. for a shorter trip, have been drawn up.

Both parties meet late in the afternoon at the Belvedere Hotel, Sooke Harbor, for dinner at 6.30 o'clock. Those wishing to join these parties must communicate with the secretary before Monday evening next. Those joining the party must wear the necessary equipment.

Other activities which have already been arranged in connection with the club include a lecture by Colonel W. W. Foster of Vancouver, former president of the Alpine Club of Canada, who will address a meeting at the Empress Hotel on March 2 on "In Camp With the Alpine Club." This will be illustrated with numerous beautiful lantern slides. The C.P.R. has kindly lent the Empress ballroom for the occasion in recognition of the part which the Alpine Club has played in advertising the attractions of the Rockies and other mountain playgrounds of Canada.

The date of the annual dinner of the Victoria section of the Alpine Club has been fixed for Tuesday, March 27, at the Empress Hotel, when the speaker will be Paul Sunor, French Consul for Western Canada.

At the meeting on Saturday night last, at the home of the president, A. O. Wheeler, Sidney, Mr. Harrison called attention to the formation of a mountaineering club in the Comox district, which would probably make an expedition into the Mount Albert Edward country some time during the coming season. The suggestion was made that the Victoria section of the society might join with the Comox organization in a summer camp. Mr. Harrison also called attention to a request which was being placed before the Government for the setting aside of certain lands in the Comox and West Coast districts as national parks, and the chairman, Mr. Wheeler, was asked to name the members of a delegation which would join one from Comox which is to interview the Premier in the near future.

Alberni

Alberni, Feb. 17.—The annual meeting of the Alberni volunteer fire brigade was held in the fire hall on Monday night when reports of the year's activities were submitted by the retiring officers and approved.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the following appointments: Chief, J. Redford; assistant chief, E. Allen; captain, R. Farmer; secretary-treasurer, Bud Frost, and chairman of the entertainment committee, Walter North. Votes of thanks were tendered to the retiring officers.

E. W. White, of the fruit branch of the department of agriculture, conducted a very successful pruning school in the district this week, when a large number availed themselves of the opportunity to learn how to prune their trees properly, and how to graft and bud them.

Mr. White reports this as one of the most successful schools on the Island this year.

M. M. Stephens, the city clerk, left for Victoria on Sunday to search title to lots sold at the annual tax sale last September and during his absence C. J. Spratt is acting as clerk.

Mrs. W. Randerson, accompanied by her daughter, Lillian, were passengers on Tuesday's train, leaving for Vancouver.

URGES HOTEL ROOM MAY BE PRISON CELL

In an interview with Deputy Attorney-General W. D. Carter, K.C., this morning, M. B. Cockrane, counsel for William Preston Gibson, playwright of Washington, D.C., now held in Vancouver on a false pretences charge made by United States authorities in Shanghai, asked that his client be given the privilege of remaining under guard at the Vancouver Hotel instead of going to Oakalla.

The Deputy Attorney-General stated to-day that he had referred the matter to the Vancouver police and that he had made no recommendation. The request was, he said, that Gibson should not be sent to Oakalla until the arrival of more definite charges.

AT THE THEATRES

"BIG FLEAS" WILL COMMENCE AT ROYAL THEATRE TONIGHT

James E. Page, who made such a big hit as Spettigue in "Charley's Aunt," both in the London Company for many years and in Syd Chaplin's picture of the same title, will also be seen in "Big Fleas" at the Royal Victoria Theatre. He has a character part of a Hebrew gentleman and plays a very strong role, and the many admirers of his fine acting in "Charley's Aunt" will also be delighted with the part he plays in "Big Fleas."

Mr. Page recently turned down offers of leading parts in large picture productions in Hollywood.

Although he enjoyed playing the part of Spettigue in Syd Chaplin's picture of "Charley's Aunt," he prefers to stay on the speaking stage, which has been his life's work.

"Big Fleas" will be presented by the Mrs. Brandon-Thomas London Company at the Royal Victoria Theatre tonight and Saturday, with a special matinee on Saturday.

Seats are now selling for three performances at the theatre box office.

HELENE COSTELLO PLAYS ROLE WELL IN WARNER FILM

One of the charms of Syd Chaplin's feature picture, "The Fortune Hunter," which has just been released by Warner Bros. now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is the skill with which it presents a number of characters known to everyone who has ever visited a small town.

First and foremost is the glib, young fellow who works behind the soda fountain in the village drug store, and there is the bevy of pretty young girls who attend the high school.

Most attractive of these girls in "The Fortune Hunter" is Joie Lockwood, daughter of the town banker.

ESCAPED ARMENIAN MASSACRES TO SEEK FORTUNE IN MOVIES

Joseph is a delight to the eye, but why on vocabulary, being beautiful but dumb.

Arthur Edmund Curlew, who plays an important supporting role in Conrad Veidt's Universal starring vehicle, "A Man's Past," at the Capitol Theatre all this week, escaped the Armenian massacres to come to America seeking fame and fortune.

Carew was born in Trebizond, Armenia. When he was just a young man the terrible massacres of 1896 broke out. Carew was attending the American college at Moscow, but even the students were not safe, so Carew braved the dangers of the frontier and worked his way across the border to Vienna, hiding during the day and walking at night.

Carew secured his first employment on the stage in 1910 as a villain in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird." He was on the stage eight years before he succumbed to the lure of motion pictures. His first screen role was in Constance Talmadge's "Romance and Arabela," made in 1918.

The specialties on the stage at the Capitol Theatre this week include "Mantell's Mannikins," the world famous marionettes, presenting the biggest show on earth in miniature. These wooden dolls under the deft manipulation of Ayres, Mantell and his assistant, do singing acrobatic stunts, dance, and a dozen other clever things.

On the same bill is Kathryn Esny, soprano soloist, in song selections. The Capitol concert orchestra is also being featured in a special musical novelty.

Johnnie Walker stars in the new Chadwick production, "The Transcontinental Limited," now heading the bill at the Variety Theatre.

Harry Langdon's vehicle, "The Strong Man," is also a feature of the Variety programme, the funniest picture seen here this year.

Langdon, the First National star, is more wistful, pathetic, and comical than ever in this cascade of laughter.

As an assistant to a German weight lifter who comes to America in search of a girl he knows only through a letter, Harry keeps audiences in bursts of hysterical joy for an hour and a half.

DANCING BROUGHT CHANCE IN FILMS FOR SALLY RAND

Sally Rand, who plays opposite Hoot Gibson in Universal's "Galloping Fury," now playing at the Columbia Theatre, didn't break into pictures. She danced in.

Sally is a Kentucky girl, having been born in Winchester. Her folks moved to Kansas City, Mo., where Sally attended school, later attending Christian College at Columbia, Mo.

Then she went into dramatic stock and later became a dancer in New York shows, following that by being in an Orpheum act which brought her to Los Angeles.

Probably the most thrilling battle with a wolf ever shown on the screen is that in Fox Films release of "Shame," at the Coliseum Theatre. In this fight, it is said, the brute was not hurt, and probably enjoyed the battle, but John Gilbert was clawed slightly.

SWEDEN MOTHERED BY CANADA

Toronto Grads Win Their Opening Game

Canadian Hockey Champions Walk Through Opposition, Scoring Eleven Goals, and Holding Their Opponents Scoreless; Swedes Play Hard But Could Not Match Strides With Canadians; Joe Sullivan, Goalie, Makes Spectators Laugh at Way He Handled the Swedes' Shots

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 17 (Canadian Press Cable).—In a snappy exhibition of hockey, Varsity Grads, of Toronto, Canada's Olympic representatives, defeated Sweden 11-0 here to-day in the first of the final games for world's amateur hockey championship.

Although the Scandinavians were whitewashed, they went down with colors flying. They skated well, and their combination was very good. They simply could not beat Joe Sullivan in the Grads' net, and his nonchalant goal-tending brought many a laugh from the crowded sidelines.

A feature of the game was Red Porter's rushing. The sore-topped Canadian went down, jumping sticks and Sweden, but carrying the puck all the time. Trotter and Frank Sullivan were always in the offing, ready to score. The match was clean with no rough play.

DID NOT OPEN UP

The Grads played a nice game, but did not extend themselves at any time. The ice was thin but hard, and apparently the Grads liked the going.

At the beginning of the second period, W. A. Hewitt, manager of the Grads, became impatient at the slow rolling up of the tally and wanted a larger score, but the Torontonians prevailed upon him to "let nature take its course."

SUMMARY

First period—1. Canada, Trotter, 3:02; 2. Canada, Peterson, 2:00; 3. Canada, Hudson, 10 minutes; 4. Canada, Trotter, 30.

Second period—5. Canada, Trotter, 3 minutes; 6. Canada, F. Sullivan, 3 minutes; 7. Canada, H. Plaxton, 30; 8. Canada, Trotter, 30.

Third period—9. Canada, Trotter, 5 minutes; 10. Canada, Hudson, 1:30; 11. Canada, F. Sullivan, 5:30.

Referee—Paul Lotze, Belgium.

SWISS BEAT BRITAIN

In the second of to-day's games Switzerland beat Great Britain 4-0 in a ding-dong battle. The result of this match would indicate that the series will end with Canada in first place, Sweden second, Switzerland third and Great Britain fourth.

St. Moritz, Feb. 17.—The United States captured first and second places in the single ice hockey series in the Olympic games this morning.

Jack Heaton, of New York, was first, J. R. Heaton, second and the Earl of Northesk, Great Britain, third.

The races were staged over a 1,400-yard course down the famous Cresta Run, which with the return of cold weather was a spot of glittering ice. Each pilot made the trip three times, the total of the time required to negotiate the course determining the winners.

The standing at the end of the race was Jack Heaton, 3 minutes 8-10 seconds; J. R. Heaton, 3 minutes 9-10 seconds; and Lord Northesk, 3 minutes 7-10 seconds.

Jack Heaton's best time was 60-2-10 seconds, which was two seconds slower than the world's record held by the Earl of Northesk.

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—In the final of the open season on protests, chief features so far in the Olympic Winter sports programme, speed skaters of America set out for some yesterday with only one official title in the duflie bags. Hundreds of Olympic athletes, but few officials, bid the American representatives an enthusiastic Godspeed as the delegation pulled out for Paris, while avalanches of soft snow tumbled down from the mountains and ice skating rinks resembled swimming pools under a warm sun and balmy breeze.

Irving Jaffe, New York flier, who scored the fastest time in the 10,000-metre event only to have the race cancelled because of soft ice and unseasonable weather, was subject to the special attention of one delegation of Swiss athletes, who carried a banner inscribed: "Jaffe, winner of the 10,000 metres race. Long Live America."

Despite the protests of Gustavus Kirby, United States Olympic representative, the Federation stuck to its ruling that the race must be run again. Kirby was stymied by the decision, inasmuch as there are no skaters left in St. Moritz.

LOCAL HOOP TEAMS HANG UP TWO WINS OVER JAMES ISLAND

Local basketball teams demonstrated their superiority over the visiting James Island aggregation at the Centennial gymnasium last night.

In the ladies' game the Advance defeated James Island by the score of 30-8. The local proved far too good and, after obtaining an early lead, were always out in front. Ronnie Rennie led the local scorers with six baskets.

The Sons of Canada were hard pressed to hang up a win over the James Island men's team, the final score being 34-27. The Islanders played a hard checking game and lost out only through their poor shooting.

Bob Whyte refereed both games and the teams were as follows:

Advance—E. Ayres, 6; T. Rennie, 12; J. Edwards, 6; D. Les, 2 and L. Newham, 4.

James Island—B. Pierce, 2; D. McNaughton, 1; Hamerly, 6; Ford, 4; S. Rowe and E. Hudson.

Sons of Canada—Nicol, 15; Brynjolfson, Doherty, 2; Partington, 13; Cann, 2; Jack Taylor, and John Taylor, 2.

HOFF PROPELLS HIMSELF OUT OF OLYMPIC GAMES

Famous Norwegian Pole Vault Finds Home A.A.U. Unfavorable to Him

Athlete Who Thrills America Cannot Regain His Amateur Standing

By ALAN J. GOULD Associated Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 17.—Charley Hoff, the smiling slim young Viking who vaulted his way across the American continent two years ago in world's record fashion, seems to have propelled himself right out of the amateur picture.

The latest information from Norway, authentically labeled, is that the Norwegian athletic powers, in the most approved A.A.U. manner, have turned a deaf ear to all appeals for the reinstatement of Hoff and shut the door to his entry in the Olympic games this year at Amsterdam.

Hoff got into difficulties over his expense accounts and his vaulting engagements while out on the Pacific Coast in the Spring of 1925 after a sensational transcontinental tour in which he exhibited a prowess with the pole that surpassed anything ever seen before in America.

One of the most likeable athletic figures ever to step onto these shores, a bundle of wiry athletic energy, the vaulting Viking overstepped the bounds of propriety laid down by the A.A.U. and his tour was cut short. Subsequently he straightened out his financial controversy with the American ruling body.

Since he had been declared only a professional, it was thought Hoff might regain the good grace of his own athletic authorities but apparently they have taken an unrelenting stand.

NO PROSPECT OF BATTLE

The final banishment of Hoff kills the prospect of a battle for vaulting supremacy between the Viking star and Sabin Carr, the Yale youth, who now holds the world's record of fourteen feet.

It also assures the country the likelihood of a clean sweep in the Olympic vaulting. Nowhere else has there been anything like the development in this specialty that there has been in the United States within the year.

Hoff was considered in a class by himself when he came to this country. The indoor record was thirteen feet flat at the time, a mark that was seldom attained indoors or out. But within a few months Hoff lifted it about eight inches and a year ago Carr vaulted to the present indoor record of 13 feet, 9 1/4 inches. Last May the Yale star cleared fourteen feet for the first time in athletic history and beat Hoff's best by a fraction of an inch.

OTHERS GOING UP

On the same day Lee Barnes the Southern Californian who holds the Olympic title jack-knifed himself up to within three inches of Carr's world record height, while three other colleagues cleared thirteen feet or better.

There are at least a dozen American vaulters doing thirteen feet consistently now a remarkable development when it is considered that Barnes didn't have to go that high to capture the Olympic crown four years ago.

GOOD-ALL AROUND MAN

Hoff is best remembered for his vaulting skill but he also ranks among the greatest all-around athletes of all time, one of the best since the palmy days of Jim Thorpe who by a coincidence also won the A.A.U. code and saw his amateur career cut short when at the height of his fame.

Of wiry build slim but sturdy Hoff was the perfect decaathlon performer, proved his versatility. On the same evening smiling Charley shattered the world's indoor marks for the broad jump and pole vault.

An injury to one of his heels kept Hoff out of his specialties in the 1923 Olympics but he was good enough away to reach the finals of the 800-metre run, the only event he was able to enter.

VICTORIA RUGBY TEAM HOPES FOR BEST IN BATTLE

Capitals Journey to Vancouver For McKechnie Cup Games To-morrow

Team Weakened By Withdrawals and Injuries, But Ready to Fight Hard

Victoria is sending a weakened team to Vancouver for the McKechnie Cup game at Brockton Point to-morrow. The Victoria Rugby Union had entertained high hopes of giving the Vancouver rep side a very hard battle, but some of the star players have found it impossible to make the trip.

The team finally decided upon by the Union will be in the hands of Bob McInnes, who has managed a number of rep teams in the past. Middleton will play full-back, and Horne, McIntosh and Putnam will be the three-quarters. Don McLean and John Shaw will be the half-backs. The forward line will be made up of McDougall, Dan Moses, Ron Mahwood, Dan Parfitt, Godwin, Lewis and Bill Feden.

PLAYERS UNABLE TO TRAVEL

The Union had hoped to have at least seven additional players in the line-ups but injuries kept Herb Pendray and Hal Parfitt from being picked in the first place and then Tony Farrel, Larry Henderson, Campbell Forbes, Jack McDonald, and Tiny Watson served notice that they would be unable to make the trip after being selected.

The Capitals are determined to put up a stiff fight and hope to keep close tabs on the Mainlanders, who have, however, announced a very fast club to oppose Victoria.

Vancouver, Feb. 17.—With three changes effected to-day in the scrum and one in the back division, the "Rep" side, which will meet Victoria to-morrow afternoon at Brockton Point in the McKechnie Cup series, was named by Dick Bell-Irving last night.

Davidson and Taylor will be given a chance in the pack, while Len Leary, out of the game for some time, will take his place on the line instead of Lavin. The team follows:

Fullback—Bob Rowan; three, J. McKay, Leroy, Wilson, Pinkham, M. Rowan; stand-off half, McMillan; half, McLean; forwards, Davidson, Choate, Taylor, Dobinson, Bain, Donaldson and Tiffin.

Commercial Hockey Teams Begin Play Monday For Title

Rink Rates to Meet Bapcos in Two-game Series; Total Goals to Count

Monday night will see the start of the finals in the Commercial Hockey League when the league winners, the Bapcos, will cross sticks with the Rink Rates in a two-game series.

The series will be two games, total goals to count, and the winner will take possession of the McKay Cup until next winter. Both teams are traveling at a very fast clip and a very good game is expected.

It is more than likely that Gordon Meeking will handle the game, and the possible lines will be as follows:

Bapcos—Goal, Westendale; defence, Sparks (Capt.); McConnell, forward; Woods, Lawson, Unwin; spares, McKenzie, McPhee, Blesdale and Balcom.

Rink Rates—Goal, Symons (Capt.); defence, Pomeroy, Benwell; forwards, Symons, Bates, Smart; spares, Kirby, Griffin and Spout.

The second game of the double-header will be between an All-star team managed by Cy Paxton vs. Plimley and Ritchie, who were defeated in the first game.

The line-ups will be: All-stars—Goal, Matt Hunter (V.C. defense, Woodley (V.C.T.), Grant (L.E.S.), forwards, Bayless (L.E.S.), Galt (V.C.T.), Conroy (Army); spares, Malone (Army), Murray (L.E.S.), Midleton (L.E.S.), Nicholson (V.C.T.).

Plimley and Ritchie—Goal, Bacon; defence, Russell, Locke; forwards, Tyrell, Smith, Cameron; spares, Davies, Swannell, Davidson and Mercer.

Prior to the first match the Cardinals and cougettes will play.

INTEREST CENTRES ON INTERMEDIATE RUGBY FIXTURES

Rugby fans will have to centre their interest to-morrow on the two intermediate games scheduled. There will be no senior fixtures through the fact that the Victoria "rep" fifteen will be playing in Vancouver in a McKechnie Cup game.

The Willows oval the Normal School will meet Victoria College with the kick-off at 3 o'clock. In the other game the University School will journey to Brentwood to take on the college team.

The matches are made all the more interesting through the fact that at the present time Victoria College and the University School are tied for first place in the second half of the schedule.

Both clubs need a good match. Besides the senior games a number

GENE TUNNEY

So! Genial Gene's traditional indifference to the admiring sex has taken the K.O. from a little blonde cutie, has it? Here's the photographic answer: she's little Helen Huebner of Milwaukee, sojourning with her parents at Miami Beach, Fla., where Tunney is in training.

New York, Feb. 17.—Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight boxing champion will depart for Miami Beach, to-night, to resume training after a ten-day visit here. Tunney expects to remain at Miami Beach until April.

Wests Weakened But Esquimalt Are Right

Greenshirts, Minus Leeming, Their Goalie, Who Was Injured Last Week, Will Face Esquimalt With Substitute; Dockers Will Be Allowed to Play Both

Watt and Warren, Who Will Come Before L.I.F.A. to Have Their Case Heard To-morrow

Tommy Watt and Ernie Warren, the two Esquimalt players who were the storm centres in the trouble that resulted last week in the game played between Esquimalt and Victoria City at Beacon Hill, will both be allowed to play to-morrow afternoon in the Milton Cup final between the Dockers and Victoria Wests at the Royal Athletic Park.

Announcement to this effect was made this morning by Alex. Peden, president of the Victoria and District Football Association, who stated there was nothing to stop the two players from taking part in to-morrow's game. Watt and Warren are slated to appear before the local board at a meeting to be held next Wednesday night, when their troubles will be aired.

The trouble last week started when Tommy Watt was alleged to have hit Fred Saunders, the referee, which resulted in a free-for-all.

WESTS WEAKENED

The Wests will be somewhat weakened for the final through the loss of their goalie, Gordon Leeming, who injured himself last week in the game against the Saanich Thistles. Doc Poynts, manager of the Wests, stated this morning that Leeming will most likely be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

The full card of games for to-morrow is as follows:

Victoria West vs. Esquimalt, Royal Athletic Park, referee, Alcock. Victoria City vs. Five C's, Beacon Hill.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Three games were played in the National Hockey League last night. Toronto Maple Leafs beating New York Americans 3-1 and entering into a tie for second place with Ottawa, in the international group, while the Montreal Maroons dropped back into third place, losing to Detroit one to nothing at Montreal. The Senators of Ottawa were held to a scoreless draw on their home ice by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pittsburgh and Detroit are now tied for third place in the American group. Arthur Smith, formerly of the Toronto Bayliss of the Canadian Pro League was the star of the game scoring two of Toronto's goals, while Lowery another Bayliss player scored the third. Smith and Lowery have been called on by the Leafs to replace Bill Carson's "Happy" Day and other members of the team who have suffered injuries.

Montreal, Feb. 17.—Montreal Maroons returned to home ice last night after a successful round trip and broke their winning streak by dropping a 1-0 decision to the scrappy Detroit Cougars. It was rather a colorful battle, with Poynts' goal half way through the first period giving the visitors the victory.

The Montreal team was distinctly off color and the various combinations they tried on the forward line all failed to work properly. The Cougars, however, did not take the honors without opposition.

Gordon Fraser was used on the defence in place of Traub. While with Chicago after going from Victoria, Fraser was converted into a centre, but Manager Adams of Detroit has shifted him back to his old position.

The reckless combination play of the Corsairs was dazzling at times as they drove two and three-man thrusts against, but they were usually either bottled up by the strong Senator rearguards or stopped dead in their tracks by the stiff back-checking of the Ottawa front rank. The visiting champions had a slight edge on the night's play.

Curtain May Drop On New League To-night

Vancouver All-stars Here for What Looks Like Last Game in International Hockey Loop; Victoria Will Try Out New Defence With Sanders and McNeely, Shail to Form Pivot; Vancouver Exceptionally Strong for Game

From the way the sun is setting to-day it looks as though the curtain will be dropped on amateur hockey in Victoria after to-night's game between Victoria and the Vancouver All-stars. The teams will meet at the Arena in a feature in the recently organized International Hockey League, which fell upon evil ways when Dr. Sanderoock, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, got wind of what was going on out here.

The teams, however, are going out to-night to give their best and work furiously for the honors. The Capitals will be crippled through the loss of both their defence men, Hughie Burnett, who has decided to retire from the game, and Earl Knipfel, who left the hospital this morning after spending a week there getting his back fixed, following his injury in last Friday's game at the Arena.

EXPERIMENTING

The Capitals will try out a new defence formation with Jack Sanders and Fred McNeely slated to start. It is possible that Dawson, Moore, Jaw, who arrived in town to-day, will be used on the defence. He has quite a reputation. Shail is back from Portland and will be used at left wing, in order to form the pivot for the defence. Osmundsen and Taylor will start on the forward line. The reserves will be Stanley, Mummery, Ellis and Downey. Ellis will make his first appearance to-night. He showed good form in the workout last night and should be an acquisition to the forward line.

Vancouver has sent over a fast skating crew, which should be a treat to watch. Most of the players are from the Monarchs, ex-King George, and Dodge of the Monarchs, on the defence, Grimmett and Evans of the Towert, Bibbe, Torrie and Johnston of the Monarchs, and Riley, of the ex-King George, will be the forwards. This is a slick-looking crowd of players all out to win.

A big crowd will be on hand to watch the teams perform.

Hudkins Is Favored To Defeat Baker In Welterweight Scrap

"Wildcat" Finds It Hard Making Weight; Bout to Go Ten Rounds To-night

New York, Feb. 17.—Ace Hudkins, free swinging Nebraska puncher, and Sammy Baker, hard-hitting soldier from Mitchell Field, yesterday ended their training for their ten-round battle in Madison Square Garden to-night in which Hudkins hopes to establish himself as the outstanding welterweight challenger.

Although Joe Dundee, champion of the division, had been under contract since last November to defend the title against the winner of this match, legal difficulties have upset Joe's flaccid apple cart. The Baltimore biffer is under suspension in New York until he settles his differences with the California authorities who had Dundee arrested following his failure to fight Hudkins in Los Angeles last fall.

Despite Baker's knockout of the wildcat in seven rounds here last Summer, Hudkins has been installed a 2-to-1 favorite. Ace holds a decision over Baker in their most recent meeting. Hudkins' difficulties are not to rain down to the 147-pound limit and experts believe he may be weakened by the weight. Baker is a natural welterweight. If Dundee is able to gain reinstatement in this state, he will meet the winner in a fifteen-round title defence here sometime in March or April.

England's Big Dog Derby Captured By Woman's Greyhound

Altcar, Lancashire, Eng. Feb. 17.—The Waterloo Cup, England's great dog derby, in which greyhounds chase live hares, was won to-day by Mrs. Sofer Whitburn's "White Collar," which defeated Colonel Sir J. Humphrey's "Hastings" in the final course.

The cup is valued at £100 with £250 added.

St. Louis, Feb. 17.—Joe Stecher and Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, who will meet each other here Monday night on a "catch-as-catch-can" basis for the heavyweight wrestling championship of the world, will confer to-day on rules of the bout.

Promoter Tom Packer said to-day the advance sale had reached the $45,000 mark.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, Feb. 17.—Wheat: The wheat market was very steady to-day with prices ranging from 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher. The May future touched $1.37 1/2 on the extreme bulge but offerings were quite liberal, there being liquidation by long, while the pool also fed out some more wheat into the pit at $1.37.

The absorption appeared to be largely by local bulls, who are very bullish and the commission houses, on resting orders. Export business was in much smaller volume to-day, although overnight sales were estimated by seaboard at around 800,000 bushels, largely Manitoba. The Continental Grain Company, who were buying moderately at times to-day and they were also selling both futures and cash wheat. Generally speaking, the market was inactive to-day inasmuch as any real business was concerned. Chicago, which had held firm throughout, weakened during the last half hour, but the pool was stronger than reported, closing 1/4 to 1/2 up, based on an improved milling demand and buying by the continent with offerings of Canadian and Argentine wheats more firmly held. While there is an improved demand for wheat from abroad, there is apparently plenty to go around. Shipments this week from Argentina and Australia total only 8,000,000 bushels, as compared with 10,846,000 bushels last week, but Broomhall cables that Argentine shipments are expected to increase again next week. We are not inclined to follow bulges such as took place yesterday, as we do not believe they will be maintained. More moisture has been received over winter wheat belt, which is sufficient for the time being, but temperatures remain cold. Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 lower, or on the bottom for the day.

Coarse grains: The demand was poor to-day for oats, barley and rye, and long were liquidated and taking profit on yesterday's upturn. While the undertone to these markets is firm the buying does not follow the bulges at present levels. Oats closed 1/4 lower, barley 1/4 lower, rye 1/4 lower. Flax turned weak with buyers of yesterday unloading with the demand very poor. Closing figures 1/4 to 1/4 lower.

LIBRARY DISPUTE NOT YET SETTLED

Board Now Adds Rental Charge to Cost of Operation of Library

Further contention between the Victoria Library Board and the municipalities of Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich over library charges was evident in a letter before the Oak Bay Council last night.

Following a consultation between E. Blandy, Clerk of Oak Bay, and A. Macdonald, city controller, the following items have been accepted by the library board:

"The basis of cost will be the amount spent by the board out of the library appropriations, less the amount receivable for the fiscal period from outside stations."

"A proportion of the city's outlay for fire insurance is included as cost and reckoned at about $170 a year. The board realized, however, that this computation was much under-estimated."

"The depreciation charge for books will not be reckoned as part of the cost of operation."

"The depreciation charge for the library building will also be omitted from the cost of operation."

"Tuition of books to schools will be included in the total circulation but not the individual circulation of the same books."

The library board has decided, however, to add to the cost of operation five per cent of the assessed value of the building and land as a rental charge.

This rental charge, a disturbing factor, according to a report of Mr. Blandy, was laid before the council. It will amount to $3,850. It was pointed out, this sum being about $1,700 in excess of an earlier claim made by the library board for taxes. The joint committee of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt representatives, recently objected to this latter taxation claim since there are no taxes on the library and it was maintained that this item resolved itself into a profit for the city on library operation.

No action was taken by the Oak Bay Council last night, the matter being referred to a special library committee.

A present temporary arrangement whereby residents of the municipalities are able to borrow books will expire February 29.

ASKS AID FOR RETURNED MEN

That the Federal Government be requested to provide free medical treatment, medicine and hospital accommodation for all returned soldiers who require them is the effect of a resolution introduced in the Provincial Legislature by Major Gus Lyons, Conservative of Victoria.

T. G. Coventry, Conservative of Saanich, is asking the House to go on record as favoring tariffs on farm produce entering Canada at least equal to the tariffs imposed on these products by foreign countries. He also urges a seasonal tariff on fruit and vegetables and the more frequent use of the dumping duty.

LORD OXFORD INTELLECTUAL FORCE IN HOUSE

Mind Described as Most Effective in British Commons of His Day

Sketch of Late British Ex-Prime Minister Written By
A. G. Gardiner

The Earl of Oxford and Asquith, whose death occurred Wednesday morning at Sutton Courtney, England, was the subject of sketches from the pens of many writers during the years he was leader of the Liberal Party of Great Britain and Prime Minister.

In a sketch written when he was at the height of his career, A. G. Gardiner, then editor of The London Daily News, said:

"If I were disposed to envy other people's brains and wanted power and not imagination, I should envy Mr. Asquith. It is of the same class as Lord Milner's, and better of its class. It is the Balliol brain at its best. It is incomparably the most powerful intellect in the House of Commons to-day—not the finest, nor the subtlest, nor the most attractive, but the most effective. It has none of the nebulous haze that invests Mr. Balfour's mental evolutions, none of the cavalry swiftness of Mr. Churchill or Mr. Lloyd George, none of the spontaneous and moral exhilaration of Lord Morley. It is dry and hard, lacks color and emotion, but it has weight, force, power. It is a piece of faultless mechanism. It works with the exactness of mathematics, with the massive, unshaking sureness of a natural force. It affects you like the machinery that you see pounding away in the hold—so measured, so true, so irresistible. It is the Nasmyth hammer of politics. This mental precision is reflected in his tastes. He is an ingenious mechanic, and I have been told that years ago when cycling was the sensation of the hour, he constructed and rode a machine with so many original devices that King Edward, then Prince of Wales, invited him to make him one like it. Perhaps this is only one of those legends that gather about distinguished men; but it is in keeping with the character."

SUCCESS PREDICTED
He has the directness of the Yorkshire stock from which he springs. "Asquith will get on," said Jowett, "he is so direct." He does not skirrnish fineness. He does not feint or flourish. He heaves himself on the enemy's centre and caves it in. The sentences of his orderly speech march into action like disciplined units, marshalled and drilled. Every word has its mark. At every sentence you see a man drop. He creates the impression of visible overthrow. It is as though you hear the blow crashing on his opponent's front, as though you see that opponent reeling to the ground.

THREE OF SPEECH

He has the terseness of phrase that is taught by the pen rather than by the tongue. The art is natural to his clear intellect, but it was perfected in those days when briefs were scarce, and when as a contributor to The Economist, he acquired that mastery of economics and finance which made him supreme when the free trade issue emerged. He understands the value of brevity as no other man does. He can be compact as an essay of Bacon. His capacious mind brings up all his legions at will into one massive movement, and discharges them in a series of shocks. Take that instance when the House had been engaged in the familiar task of trying to discover whether Mr. Balfour was a free trader or a protectionist. The debate had reached its close. Mr. Balfour was still both and neither. Mr. Asquith rose, and in a speech of two minutes and half a dozen sentences left him a wreck, shattered fore and aft.

GREAT DEBATER

He is the first debater of his time. As a boy his gift of lucid statement and breadth of comprehension was apparent. When he came up from Yorkshire to the City of London School, Dr. Abbott, the head master, was at once struck with his powers of debate. While the Boys' Society debated Mr. Abbott corrected exercises. "But when Asquith entered the society," he said, "I began to find this difficult. . . . Finally, whenever he entered the lists of orators I resigned myself to a willing attention, and was content to take my exercises away with me uncorrected." He has nothing of the tumultuous energy and passion of Fox as pictured in Hamilton.

"Everything showed the agitation of his mind, his tongue faltered, his voice became almost suffocated, and his face was bathed in tears. He was lost in the magnitude of his subject. He reeled and staggered under the load of feeling which oppressed him. He rolled like a sea beaten by a tempest." Mr. Asquith does not roll like the sea. He stands, as Pitt stood, like a rock beaten by the sea.

CREATES CONFIDENCE

He creates confidence and carries conviction, but he does not inspire men with great passions. His eloquence keeps to the solid earth; it does not fly with wings. It assures you victory; but it denies you adventure. It is a favorite saying of Morley that "great thoughts spring from the heart." Mr. Asquith does not utter great thoughts. No Balliol man of the Jowett tradition does. The Balliol mind distrusts "great thoughts" even if it thinks them. It believes in the come from weak minds and soft hearts—from "zealous" persons with good emotions, but defective intellects. Balliol, in fact, is really atrophy of the heart. It is exhaustion of the emotions. It has produced the finest mental machines of this generation, but they are sometimes cold and cheerless. They lack atmosphere and the humanities. They are intellectual sublimities beneath whose huge legs we creep, "peeping about to find ourselves dishonorable graves." We admire them, we respect them; we do not love them, for we feel they would be insulted by the offer of so irrational a thing as love.

COURTEOUS AND CONSIDERATE

Mr. Asquith is handicapped by this chill of the spirit. It gives him the sense of remoteness and hardness which those who knew him best declare is unjust to the real man. Behind that exterior of adamant there are shy virtues of gentility and even tenderness and in personal contact you are impressed not merely by his masculine grip of affairs, but by his courtesy and consideration. But, a popular figure he is not—perhaps does not seek to be. He comes to the front by sheer authority of intellect and over nothing to the magnetism of personality. He meets you in the office, not in the parlor of his thoughts. No genial stories gather about his personality.

JOWETT TRADITION

He has the merits as well as the defects of the Jowett tradition. It was material and unimaginative. It produced Curzonism and Milnerism. It lacked sympathy and insight, because sympathy and insight, like great thoughts, spring from the heart. It built upon facts and scorned human sentiment, which is the greatest fact of all in the government of men. But it has the high quality of reserve, it cultivates no illusion, raises no false hopes. It does not, like Mercutio, "say more in five minutes than it will stand to in a month"; but carefully understates itself. Its deeds are often better than its words; its bills more drastic than its promises.

NATURAL INEVITABILITY

There has been nothing sensational or unexpected in his career. He emerged with a natural inevitability. He came, he saw, he conquered. Opportunity never found him unequal to the task. When in the Parnell trial Russell, owing to indisposition, left the cross-examination of Macdonald of The London Times to him, it was felt it was a grave misfortune, for here was the crux of the case. If this went wrong all might go wrong. When Mr. Asquith sat down he had shattered the Times case and made his own reputation. When in 1892 Mr. Gladstone entrusted him with the final attack on the Salisbury Government he did so with hesitation. But after it he had no hesitation in making him Home Secretary. Mr. Asquith, in fact, is the man who never falls. He is always intellectually bigger than his task.

The Broad Field of Canadian Commerce

CANADA has risen from a position of comparative obscurity to one of prominence and prestige among nations through an unusually rapid exploitation of a vast range of natural wealth. Wheat grown on Canada's great agricultural estate is the standard of quality—the forests of Canada furnish nearly 40 per cent. of the newsprint and a large part of the lumber used throughout the world—the greatest exploration programme ever known has been undertaken in a mineral field of about 3,000,000 square miles—the fishing grounds in and adjacent to Canada are the most extensive in the universe—a survey, still to be completed, has revealed the world's second largest source of hydro-electric energy.

When Canada entered on its great scheme of national development this Bank stood prepared to extend its services, even to the confines of civilization. Branches have been opened a step ahead of community development, the capital and reserves of the Bank increased and arrangements made to facilitate the sale of Canadian products in the world market. Since 1900 no less than 400 new branches have been opened.

Today, The Canadian Bank of Commerce serves every branch of Canadian commerce in every section of Canada, and it is still the Bank's policy to conduct its business and to form its plans with the future in mind.

THIS LOOKS GOOD

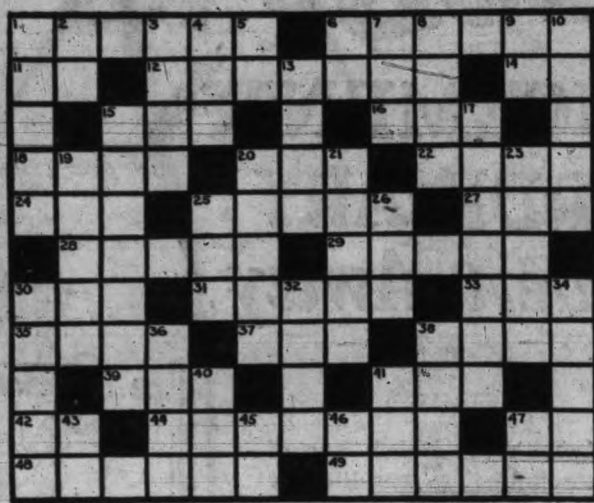

SMART STYLE is all some golfers are said to be particular about. Letter Golfers, if SMART, can go to STYLE in five strokes—that's par. Perhaps you can beat it. One solution is on page 21.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEW, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEH.
- 2—You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1928

Until late in the day the planetary government is rather threatening, according to astrology, but the evening should be fortunate.

There is an especially good sign for whatever has to do with music or entertainment of any sort.

Theatres should benefit through unusual and unexpected channels which promise return to better dramas.

As the day advances the tide of romance will rise, the stars forecast, and there may be many foolish love affairs.

Marriages and divorces will increase in number, if the stars are rightly read, and sentimentality will be as prevalent as colds in early winter.

This should be a fairly fortunate wedding day, for it indicates the persistence of love, even though wealth may be slow in coming.

The effects of the conjunction of Jupiter and Uranus in late January may now be noticeable.

England may face new financial problems and may suffer from conflicts with other nations, as well as revolutions within the Empire.

Women should cultivate intellectual charm at this time, when the stars are supposed to enable men to discover all the superficialities of the opposite sex.

Decline of the vogue of the merely pretty girl is foretold and all who would be belle will be wise to eschew many modern habits that betoken the vacant mind, astrologers declare.

Under this rule of the stars diseases of the mouth may be numerous, and the teeth may cause trouble.

All through the month of March exceptional weather may be expected. Severe storms that take a heavy toll of life are indicated.

Persons whose birthdate it is have me?

the augury of a year of travel and pleasure. The young will figure romances.

Children born on this day probably will have great talent in one of the arts. Many clever designers are to be under this sign.

The big balloon then floated high and disappeared up in the air. The Tines, in the tires, kept on rolling o'er the ground. They kept together on their way and then the bunch heard Clowey say, "It seems we're going very fast. I wonder where we're bound."

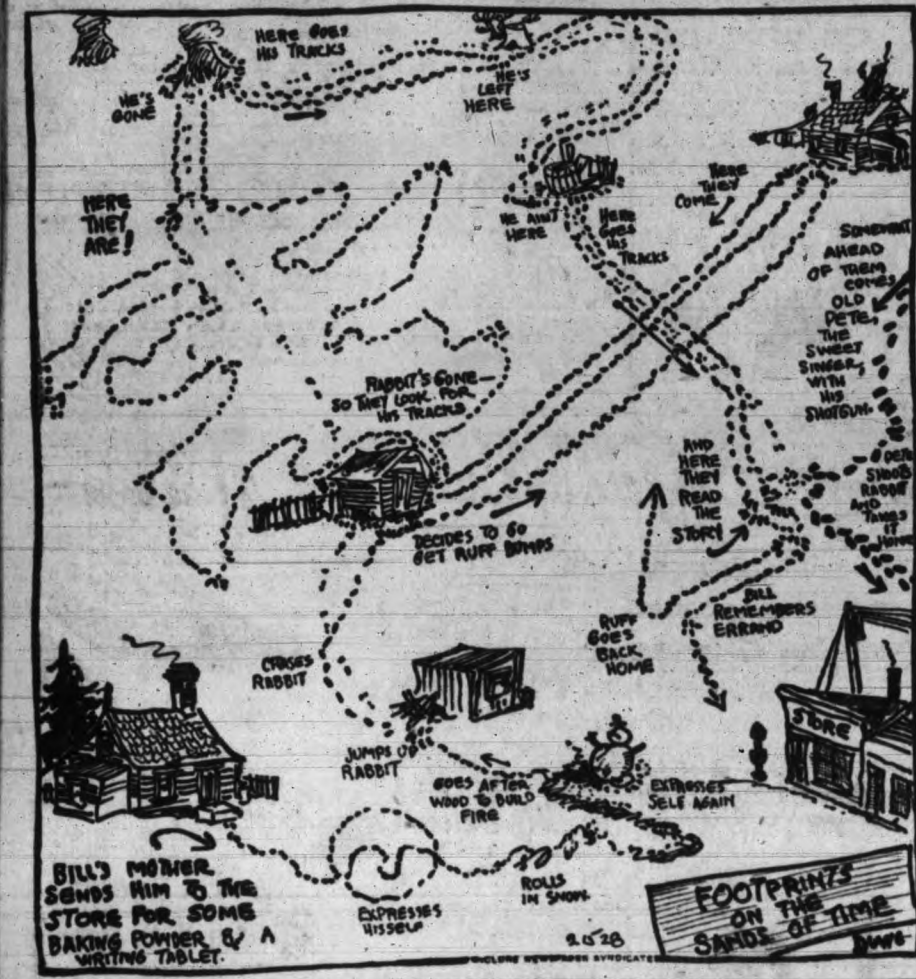

"What do we care?" was Coppy cried. "As long as I can stay inside this tire it is really fun to move along like this. The ground, as far as I can see, is as smooth and safe as it can be. I guess we'll keep on going until something goes amiss."

"Course now and then they'd hit a bump which made the tires go thump, thump, but all the Tines held on tight and didn't mind at all. Then Clowey cried, "The dizzy now. I wish I could jump free, somehow." But he was rather scared to, "cause he feared he'd take a fall.

For miles and miles they rolled real fast, and trees and shrubs went sailing past. They reached a little hill which looked, by far, too high to climb. Cried

The BENSON MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE • CHARLES SCHWAB

Shortly before noon Stitt came. He was a prematurely old young man, with sharp, shrewd eyes and a perpetual frown. The prospect of working for the district attorney pleased him.

Markham explained briefly what was wanted, and revealed enough of the case to guide him in his task. The man grasped the situation immediately, and made out two notes on the back of a dilapidated envelope.

Vance also, during the instructions, had jotted down some notations on a piece of paper.

"Now, I suppose, I must keep the appointment you made for me," he complained to Vance. Then, "Come, Stitt, I'll take you down with us in the judges' private elevator."

"If you don't mind," interposed Vance, "Mr. Stitt and I will forgo the honor and mingle with the commoners in the public lift. We'll meet you downstairs."

Taking the accountant by the arm, he led him out through the main waiting-room. It was 10 minutes, however, before he joined us.

We took the subway to Seventy-second Street and walked up West End Avenue to Mrs. Paula Banning's address. She lived in a small apartment-house just around the corner in Seventy-fifth Street.

As we stood before the door, waiting for an answer to our ring, a strong odor of Chinese incense drifted out to us.

"Ah! That facilitates matters," said Vance, sniffing. "Ladies who burn incense are invariably sentimental."

Mrs. Banning was a tall, slightly adipose woman of indeterminate age, with straw-colored hair and a pink-and-white complexion.

Her face in repose possessed a youthful and vacuous innocence; but the expression was only superficial. Her eyes, a very light blue, were hard; and a slight purplish about her cheekbones and beneath her chin attested to years of idle and indulgent living.

She was not unattractive, however, in a vivid, flamboyant way; and her manner, when she ushered us into her over-furnished and roocco living-room, was one of easy-going good-fellowship.

When we were seated and Markham had apologized for our intrusion, Vance at once assumed the role of interviewer.

During his opening explanatory remarks he appraised the woman carefully, as if seeking to determine the best means of approaching her for the information he wanted.

After a few minutes of verbal reconnoitering, he asked permission to smoke, and offered Mrs. Banning one of his cigarettes, which she accepted. Then he smiled at her in a spirit of appreciative geniality, and relaxed comfortably in his chair.

He conveyed the impression that he was fully prepared to sympathize with anything she might tell him.

"Mr. Pyle strove very hard to keep you entirely out of this affair," said Vance; "and we fully appreciate his delicacy in so doing. But certain circumstances, which Mr. Benson's death have inadvertently involved you in the case, and you can best help us and yourself, and particularly Mr. Pyle, by telling us what we want to know, and trusting to our discretion and understanding."

He had emphasized Pyle's name, giving it a significant intonation, and the woman had glanced down uneasily.

Her apprehension was apparent, and when she looked up into Vance's eyes, she was asking herself: How much does he know? as plainly as if she had spoken the words audibly.

"I can't imagine what you want me to tell you," she said, with an effort at astonishment. "You know that Andy was not in New York that night."

(Her designating of the elegant and superior Pyle as "Andy" sounded almost like lese-majeste.)

"He didn't arrive in the city until nearly 9 the next morning."

"Didn't you read in the newspapers about the grey Cadillac that was parked in front of Benson's house?" Vance, in putting the question, imitated her own astonishment.

She smiled confidently.

"That wasn't Andy's car. He took the 8 o'clock train to New York the next morning. Mr. Pyle, as having been drawn into the case. I referred to a personal relationship between you and Mr. Benson."

CHAPTER XXXIX

She assumed an attitude of smiling indifference.

"I'm afraid you've made another mistake," she spoke lightly. "Mr. Benson and I were not even friends. Indeed, I scarcely knew him."

There was an overtone of emphasis in her denial—a slight eagerness which, in indicating a conscious desire to be believed, robbed her remark of the complete casualness she had intended.

"Even a business relationship may have its personal side," Vance reminded her. "Especially when the intermediary is an intimate friend of both parties to the transaction."

She looked at him quickly; then turned her eyes away.

"I really don't know what you're talking about," she affirmed; and her face for a moment lost its contours of innocence, and became calculating.

"You're surely not implying that I had any business dealings with Mr. Benson?"

"Do you know who he quarrelled about with Mr. Benson in his office last Wednesday?" asked Vance.

"That was all my fault," she explained, with a sigh. "I was getting very near to the time when the note was due, and I knew Andy didn't have all the money. So I asked him to go to Benson and offer him what he had, and see if he couldn't get my jewels back. . . . But he was refused—I thought he would be."

BEDTIME STORY
Uncle Wiggly and the Surprised Fox

(Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By Howard B. Garis

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggly, as the little Valentine Day rabbit lay in her crib and pointed her little milk at the window.

"Something's coming in, and I think it's a fox," said Vallie.

"This is too bad!"

"No, there is only one of me!" snarled the fox, grinning all over his face as he jumped down into the room, the window of which had been left open by Nurse Jane Fussy Wussy when she and Mrs. Longears went down town to shop at the eight and nine-cent store. They had left Uncle Wiggly home to take care of Vallie.

"Are you going to nibble my ears?" asked the fox, looking around the room for something to throw at the hungry animal. But all the rabbit gentleman could see was little Vallie, and her crib, and he did not want to throw either of them. "You are bad enough," said the bunny uncle to the fox, "but I mean it was too bad you had to come in just now, when everything was so nice and quiet."

"Oh, I won't make any noise!" snickered the fox. "I can nibble your ears so quiet as never was," and he looked hungrily at Uncle Wiggly.

"Are you going to nibble my ears?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Yes," snarled the fox.

"Why, of all things," squeaked Nurse Jane.

"What about mine?" suddenly asked Vallie, waving her bottle of milk of which she had taken only a little.

"Oh? What's that? Who are you?" asked the fox in surprise.

"I'm Nurse Jane Fussy Wussy," said the nurse, holding up a tiny baby rabbit in the crib. But though Vallie was small, she could talk and do other things.

"This is my newest little Valentine bunny," explained Uncle Wiggly. "I found her on my doorstep in a basket when I came home from tapping a tree to get some maple sugar."

"Oh, I remember about that time," snarled the fox. "You made my friend, Mr. Wolf, burn his paw quite badly. And now I am going to bite your ears just as bad!"

"Vallie, stop!" cried the nurse. "You're winding one eye at Uncle Wiggly, which greatly surprised the gentleman."

"Yes, yours too!" barked the fox. "You're going to nibble your ears first!" he told the little Valentine rabbit child. "Cause they must be more tender."

The fox did not intend to hurt Vallie at all, but he felt he must have some nibbles off her ears. So he leaned over the crib to see which ear he had best begin on, the left or the right, but, all of a sudden something happened.

A stream of milk, like water from the garden hose, squirted through the air and splashed all over the face of the fox. Into his eyes and nose and mouth the milk squirted.

"Oh, scowls! Oh, wow! Oh chocolate pudding!" howled the fox and he was so surprised that he jumped backward and fell head over tail out of the window the way he had come in. And outside was a police dog who chased the fox back to his den.

"I squirmed it at him out of my bottle!" chuckled the little rabbit girl. "I'm membered, once, try I squirmed some on Nurse Jane so I did the same to the fox. I squirmed him!"

"You certainly did!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. "First you surprised me by coming in a basket and now you surprised the fox by making milk come out of a bottle and squirt in his eyes. You are a smart little bunny!"

"And will you make me some candy to-morrow?" asked Vallie.

"Yes," answered the rabbit uncle. "I will. So if the curtain will run up to the ceiling so the clock can look out of the window and see if the letterman is coming, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Vallie's candy."

I hope to make it a funny story so if you want to start laughing now that will be all right. But save some laughs for to-morrow night. You may need them.

NEW PACIFIC LINER PLANNED BY THE C.P.R.

Vessel the Size of R.M.S. Empress of Canada to Be Started Soon

Will Be Ready For Operation Out of Victoria and Vancouver By 1930

Vancouver, Feb. 17.—Construction of a trans-Pacific liner as large as R.M.S. Empress of Canada is planned by the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, for service out of Vancouver and Victoria, it is announced by Captain E. Beetham, general superintendent of the company.

Captain Beetham has returned from a conference of Canadian Pacific Railway executives at Montreal where plans for a new liner were discussed. The vessel will be ready for operation by 1930, he declared, and will be the fourth liner on trans-Pacific service. The new vessel will be as large as the Empress of Canada which is 21,517 tons gross, 427 feet long, seventy-seven feet beam, and forty-two feet deep. They are 16,000 tons gross each, 570 feet long, sixty-two feet beam and forty-two feet deep.

ISLAND RAILROAD PLANS ANNOUNCED

Replacement of Steel and Trestles and Construction of Sidings on E. & N.

Replacement of trestles, laying of heavier steel rails and the construction of additional sidings will constitute the main improvement programme of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway for 1928, according to an announcement made by H. E. Beasley, general superintendent.

The work this year will be a continuation of the improvements on the line initiated during the last few years. No large extensions of the system are at present contemplated, it is understood.

At Victoria, work will be done on filling in behind the retaining wall built on the south side of the company's property on the city side of the harbor, Mr. Beasley stated. The whole yard will be brought to the same level as the part attached to when the Johnson Street bridge was built.

Completion of work started in 1927 on bridges up Island will form the main feature of the bridge building programme. Five permanent bridges, with steel spans of masonry abutments, are to be completed at Trent River, on the northern end of the Big Qualicum River Bridge and at three points on the Port Alberni line.

Ball work will include the replacement of six miles of line by heavier steel, and the construction of six additional sidings for the aid of industrial shipping. It is also proposed to build ten miles of road-bed fresh.

Allan, K. Hulme, of San Francisco, manager of the chartering department of the General Steamship Corporation, arrived here yesterday for a business visit of several days.

TACOMA
Tacoma, Feb. 17.—Among the arrivals here yesterday was the City of Spokane, one of the seven large deep sea carriers purchased by Tacoma interests from the United States Shipping Board. She came here from Seattle to load cargo for Shanghai and other Oriental ports. She shifted to Aberdeen for additional cargo, but will return here in several days.
With 5,000 tons of copper from Iquique and South American ports, the Marie Bakke arrived early yesterday morning. After loading 550 tons of copper, she left for Seattle and here for London late Wednesday night. The K. I. Luckenbach sailed for New York via Seattle late yesterday afternoon after loading lumber and general cargo.

SAN FRANCISCO
San Francisco, Feb. 17.—E. Grant McKicken, passenger traffic manager of the Pacific Steamship Company, who arrived here from Seattle a few days ago, left tonight for Los Angeles, accompanied by "Rube" Schutter, district passenger agent in the Southern city. McKicken, who has made an extensive survey of passenger traffic conditions on the Pacific coast, is of the opinion that this year's traffic will break all previous records.
With twenty-one ships arriving here between Wednesday midnight and yesterday afternoon, local customs and immigration officials experienced one of the biggest days since the first of the year.
The twenty-one ships, carrying a total of 44,307 tons, most of the vessels having been delayed on account of heavy weather experienced off the California coast.

Late to-day the Dollar liner President Grant, in command of Captain Robert E. Carey, sailed from here for the Orient with a full list of cabin and stowage passengers and a capacity cargo. The Grant recently arrived from San Pedro where many of the passengers bound for the Orient embarked.

ILE DE FRANCE TO CARRY AEROPLANE

Catapult For Launching at Sea Is Installed on Deck of Giant French Liner

Word has just been received by Pierre de Malglaive, resident director of the French Line at New York, from his company's headquarters in Paris that the repairs to the turbines of the flag-ship Ile de France have progressed to the point where their completion is assured by February 20, thus making certain the steamer's readiness to sail from Havre March 7 on schedule.
The French Line has taken advantage of the enforced lay-up of the Ile de France to install on the afterdeck the mechanism which will be used to catapult from the steamer the aeroplane which will be a regular part of its equipment. The plane will be used for expediting the arrival in New York and Paris of important mails and passengers in an urgent hurry.
A few minor changes have been made in the decorations of the public rooms. These in no way affect the general modern art scheme of the ship's interior, but merely some of the details of its execution.
The Ile de France will sail from Havre on March 7 and from New York on March 17.

U.S. DISPOSES OF PACIFIC VESSELS

Three Cargo Lines Sold By Government; Tacoma Gets Seven Ships

Washington, Feb. 17.—The U.S. Government went out of the shipping business on the Pacific Coast yesterday when the Shipping Board sold its last remaining three cargo lines for $3,743,661.

In making the sale to three different concerns the board ended a controversy which raged for months over whether the lines should be sold under a five-year or a ten-year guarantee, with the advocates of the five-year term prevailing.
The American-Australia Orient Line, which operates twenty-one ships out of San Francisco, New Zealand, the Philippines, China and Japan, was sold to a corporation owned by the Matson Navigation Company, an American-Hawaiian Steamship Company for $1,981,753.

The Oregon-Orient Line of eleven ships, operating from Portland, Ore., to Japan and China, was sold to a corporation headed by K. D. Dawson of Portland; vice-president of the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company, for $1,065,000.
The American-Orient Mail Line, which operated seven ships out of Puget Sound ports to the Orient, was sold to a corporation to be known as the Tacoma Oriental Steamship Company of Tacoma, for $669,808.

DEVELOPMENT OF RAILROAD TOLD

Expansion of Winnipeg Terminals Described By C.P.R. Superintendent There

Winnipeg, Feb. 17.—Speaking to the Canadian Pacific Association here yesterday, R. A. Gamble, superintendent of terminals, Winnipeg, gave an interesting comparison between railroading here at the present and in the early days when the terminals were commenced, thus inaugurating the grain movement in Western Canada.
With the completion of the Louis Riel bridge over the Red river in 1882, the Winnipeg terminal was conceived. It first contained fifteen miles of track with about six industries adjacent. The first plant was the J. Y. Griffin slaughterhouse. There was then one train daily from the South. There was little change in the layout until 1904 when an enormous cutting of a new yard double the original was built. Weston shops started and a new roundhouse built by the Canadian Pacific. Slight alterations were made in 1912, but in 1914 so great had the grain traffic become that the great yards at North Transcona were constructed with an unlimited working capacity. There were seventy-six yard engines over the yard in 1928. The Winnipeg terminals have 300 miles of track, a capacity of 14,000 cars and contains 1,400 switches, 40,000 square feet of paved roadway, 2,500 feet of gravel roadway and 400 private sidings. Grain inspectors in the earlier days numbered only three, to-day there are 230.
At the peak of the grain movement in October and November a daily average of 5,164 cars were handled through the Transcona yard. There were seventeen yardmasters on duty, three clerical offices and one yardmaster's office, with 450 switchmen employed. Huge engines hauled 4,000 tons of grain up the hump in the yard from which they are switched by gravity to twenty-five classification tracks.

Canadian grain exports through U.S. ports amounted to 2,738,000 bushels against 2,331,000 the previous week while exports of North American wheat flour were 151,000 barrels against 235,000 barrels.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water
No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food, creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.
The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.
This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithine, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.
Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. (Adv.)
